DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 31, 1888.

THE Augusta Republican is advocating the question of free turnpikes, and thinks it only a question of time when travel will be untrammelled.

At Louisville the past year 1,611 marriage licenses were issued and 167 divorces were granted—about one divorce to every ten marriages.

THE forests of the United States are wonderful in extent, but taking $800,000,000 worth of timber from them every year, as is now being done, will soon knock a big hole in 'em.

THERE is some satisfaction for Democrats in knowing that Grover Cleveland got more votes than were ever cast for a single individual "in all the tides of time," even if he was defeated.

HON. WILL C. OWENS, of Georgetown, is mentioned as "the next Governor of Kentucky." Perhaps Judge Hager, of Ashland, will have nothing to say about that when the time comes—two years hence. Ninth district Democrats will take great pleasure in supporting Mr. Hager if he decides to enter the race.

A WASHINGTON special says some of the Kentucky friends of Hon. Cassius M. Clay intend to bring his name to the attention of General Harrison for Secretary of War. They will likely have their trouble for nothing. If any Kentucky Republican is honored with a position in the Cabinet, it will be one of the "Big Four."

SENATOR JOHN J. INGALLS is credited with saying that "the granting of the right of suffrage to the negro was an unqualified failure." Well it has proved a failure in one sense. It failed to perpetuate Republican rule in the South. No doubt Ingalls and many other Republicans regret the right of voting was ever granted the negro.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Interesting Notes and Comments for 1888-9, by Superintendent Galbraith.

FRANKLIN—NO. 9.

The house is comfortable in all of its appointments and furniture. The trustees are J. J. Thompson, Joe H. Scott and John Tucker.

The school is taught by Miss Laura Victor, a very competent and faithful teacher. I found the school in excellent working order. For more exact detail I quote from her report as follows: "I have at present thirty-two pupils enrolled. The average attendance to this time—November 26th—is nineteen and three-tenths. Three pupils have been in attendance all the time. They are Victor Gabby, John Thompson and May Gabby. Each of the trustees has visited the school for the purpose of repairing the furniture and providing fuel. Only one of the patrons has visited us. The building is comfortable and the furniture is in very good condition. I use and preserve the written work of all my pupils from the beginner to the pupil who is farthest advanced. The result of this kind of work has been very gratifying to me. I notice considerable improvement in the work of the majority of my pupils while the progress of some has been very much retarded by their irregular attendance."

WASHINGTON—NO. 17.

This school is taught in the old court house, with an enrollment of thirty pupils and an average attendance of twenty.

The trustees are George Taylor, George C. Goggin and Dr. A. Hunter. Mr. Goggin has visited the school.

This school is taught by Miss Mary Chamberlain, a very faithful and successful teacher. She has the tact of getting her pupils interested in composition work and other original investigation.

She has preserved the written work in all her classes. But, to use her own words, "I believe if the patrons and trustees would show more interest in the school it would encourage both teacher and pupils to more diligent efforts." If parents could only see how the interest of their children is increased by their own, they would surely not only visit the schools, but talk about them, and help the little ones.

NO. 22, MT. GILEAD.

We here find a new and well furnished house. And I find that the patrons in these districts where suitable furniture has been purchased, feel that they could not give it up. There is such marked improvement. In fact it is almost impossible to have first-class work when the pupils are not properly seated. We are making rapid progress in this respect throughout the county.

There are 40 pupils enrolled, with an average attendance of 22.

The trustees are A. M. Bramel, H. C. Stone and Howard Farrow. Mr. Stone has visited the school. Of the patrons Mrs. H. C. Stone, Mrs. Hopper and Mrs. Jesse Goodman have visited the school.

The school is taught by Miss S. A. Rawlings, who is having admirable success. She has the confidence of both pupils and patrons, and justly, too. I found here that the written work had been done with care, and as a consequence the pupils were interested and making rapid improvement in it.

The discipline of the school was first-class, and the pupils acquitted themselves well.
